Olaf Mattsson was the great grandfather of both Magnus Challeen and Anna Petersdotter, wife of Andrew Challeen. He lived in the farm/village of Karslatt within the parish of Dals-Ed. His father was the klockare (parish clerk, sexton, bell-ringer) for that parish and after his father died, Olaf inherited that position. With the position, he also took his name, Kjellin. After Olaf died his son, Anders, inherited the job and also used the Kjellin surname. Olaf died in 1797 at age 69 from "feber" (fever).
